

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

CBH receives multiple top honors at annual Partner Summit in Orlando FL

Awarded Solution Provider of the Year for achievements in jointly developed solutions for Financial Services and Healthcare verticals, and North American Reseller Partner of the Year for excellence in business development

Irvine, CA, May 24, 2007 — In Orlando, Florida at Cognos Partner Summit 2007, CBH was again honored with a Strategic Platinum Reseller Award for the fifth consecutive year. CBH also received its second North American Reseller Partner of the Year award, and Solution Provider of the Year award for the development of solutions built on Cognos applications. Awards were presented in a number of categories, with winners chosen from hundreds of entrants. CBH tops the list of an elite few that have excelled at business development, solution innovation, and thought-leadership.

"CBH delivers performance management solutions that provide a real competitive advantage, particularly for the financial services and healthcare industries," said Mel Zeledon, senior vice president, global alliances, Cognos. "We have a highly productive partnership. Cognos is proud to honor CBH as they help our customers to think fast, plan confidently and act decisively to achieve business objectives."

CBH's core business philosophy focuses on delivery excellence, customer satisfaction, strategic account management, and developing insights into their customers business, processes, and practices. Building out these award-winning strengths and skills has enabled CBH customers to accelerate their performance objectives.

"With over 18 billion in assets and offices in Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Arkansas, Arizona, Kansas and Utah, Bank of Oklahoma Financial had a tremendously challenging and time consuming financial planning process," said Bill Allen, Vice President of Planning, BOK. "Our operating philosophy embraces local decision-making for each bank subsidiary and CBH took the time to understand this. With their in-depth knowledge of both Cognos and the financial services industry, we were able to quickly reach our project goals of better expense insight and revenue management."

Each year Cognos recognizes partners that have developed and delivered exceptional solutions and services. These awards recognize CBH's unparalleled expertise in delivering Performance Management applications based on Cognos technologies, and identifies CBH as the leader in delivering Performance Management services and solutions.

"We are very thankful for the tremendous efforts of our staff and clients that make these awards possible. We are also privileged to work with great people at Cognos committed to improving performance in some of the best organizations in the world," said Joe Baird, CEO, CBH. "This recognition is an affirmation of the direction that our leadership, with input from Cognos and our clients, has set forth." Mr. Baird further added, "We will continue to develop solutions that accelerate performance initiatives, bringing predictability, industry insight and process improvement to our projects. We look forward to continuing to grow the CBH client community that now includes nearly three hundred organizations throughout North America and Europe."

About CBH – CBH provides guidance for organizations deploying Performance Management solutions that give the power to make critical business decisions faster, with greater confidence, at every level. Many Fortune 1000 and mid-market companies throughout North America are running faster, smarter and more effectively with the help of CBH. Headquartered in Irvine CA, with offices in Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, Seattle and Dallas, CBH designs solutions for Performance Management that include financial planning, metrics management, business intelligence, collaboration, and workflow technologies.

Media Contact:
Tom Griggs
949-609-0123

###